Corporate Conferencing & Events

We also constantly invest, allowing us to bring the latest cutting edge technology to the table. The Enlightened team have their finger on the pulse of every facet of the industry and work tirelessly to identify not only new trends in the market-place but also equipment that will ease the daily strain that a busy venue faces when juggling event operations alongside AV set up. Our investment in Sennheiser LSP Speaker technology is testament to our desire to make your lives easier and provide equipment that is reliable, looks great and deploys quickly. This in turn helps you to reduce room turnaround time, maximising occupancy levels and revenue.

We have helped thousands of companies produce stylish, groundbreaking and effortless, conferences and events.

Working closely with our expert hire department, our talented production team are also able to create and deliver stunning corporate events that are the highlight of a client's year. They are never satisfied with simply meeting a client's brief or just providing the initial wow factor. They want to blow their client's socks off and deliver spectacular events that are the talk of the town.

We believe in attention to detail and unwavering commitment to the highest of standards; our expertise is second to none. Our prices are fully transparent and broken down at every step of the way to afford you full flexibility and control of your end client resale value.

WHY ENLIGHTENED?

We feel Enlightened would be the perfect fit for your business. We've been an indispensable element in both Bristol and Bath's event industry for the last 19 years. Whenever the Cities have something to celebrate and shout about we've been there to show off the region's beauty, ensuring it looks and sounds the very best.

Originally located in Bath we relocated to larger premises in Bristol as the company flourished and have firmly positioned ourselves as a key player in the Bristol marketplace. We are highly regarded and respected in the industry by the region's movers and shakers and also our peers. We have the depth of experience you need and the talent your business deserves. We have passion for what we do and it shows.

Enlightened are proud to have been trusted by many of the West's most prestigious companies including the National Trust, BBC, UWE, Apex Hotel Bath, Bath University, and Media/Event Companies such as Media Clash, Oasis Events and Alastair Currie Events providing event production for their clients such as RSG (Resource Solutions Group) and Clifton College.

We support venues and events of all shapes and sizes throughout Bristol and Bath as well as UK wide so if you've been to a first class event in the region it's a safe bet we were involved in making it happen.
